FOREWORD

“There are deeds which should not pass away,
And names that must not wither. “

In presenting this work, the writer hopes it will be a readable story, and one which will leave no doubt as to its historical accuracy. The work leaves many things to be desired, for searching out and compiling all that ought to be included is a problem. Writing a family history is a fascinating job, though frustrating at times, for it is never finished.

For 30 years, in a limited manner and as opportunity presented itself, I have collected historical data as an enjoyable hobby and endeavored to learn as much of the history of my and my husband's ancestry as a busy life would permit. Here-say is too commonly printed and quoted as fact. I have, therefore, endeavored to give the source of information wherever possible. Mrs. C. P. McGuire (page 22, 5-2) of Birmingham, gave me some material on the Jans, Bogardus, Arnold, and Thomason genealogy, thus creating my first desire to delve into family histories. This, I have done in the belief that by preserving a record of certain sterling family qualities, they are worthy of emulation by younger generations and I also may be able to create a valuable record of information and inspiration.

The main purpose in this effort is to register, in as far as possible, the names and achievements, wherever obtainable of our ancestors.

Much of the genealogical material has been furnished by members of various families. To all who have helped in any way, I am grateful, and extend my heartfelt thanks.

For the purpose of accuracy, I have spent much time in careful research and in continuous checking of the information herein contained. Therefore, I believe that errors have been reduced to a minimum and request your gracious forbearance should any have crept in.

It must be noted that important links of connections are often unobtainable due to loss of family Bibles in fire or enemy invasions, and the actual deterioration of the materials by time. All these have caused the destruction also of many courthouse records and public documents.

"Your eyes, ears or jaw- --- yea, even your nose
Perhaps hands and feet, or fingers and toes
Reappear in generations to come
If then these are tell-tales 'twixt sire and son,
If moles on your cheek, if tooth or a thumb -
If these lovely Minutia transmitted through ages,
Tell far more of truth than I can in these pages,
What! Shall we say then that virtue, vice or diseases dire,
Are all left behind in dame or in sire?
Oh no! As seed of all plants yield of their kind,
In man and in woman, no exception we find."

Copied

For identification purposes, I have used the following system:
Example - Children of John (4-2) Jones. The 4 is for the 4th generation, the 2 is for the second child in that family. Also (3-1-4A) is read 3rd generation, first child of the 4th child of the former generation by his first wife, B would be by the second wife, etc. The families of the different wives are divided by (---). The children or families in the same generation and by the same father are divided by (). The names that are underlined are the direct ancestors of my children.

Abbreviations in this book, besides those which are of customary and general use, are as follows: b. for born; d. for died; m. for married; dau. for daughter and ab. for about; A.C. of A.G. is for "The Abridged Compendium of American Genealogy," by Virkus.

The spelling of names may be wrong because many of the records from which I copied were very badly written or faint from age.

I am including many blank pages for the use of future generations. The blank pages after pages 10 and, etc. are for your direct line.

I have enjoyed compiling the various genealogies and I hope that you will enjoy reading them as much.

"Tis not the rich, the great, nor the high born,
But the combination of all - through generations,
That makes the superior man. "

- J. G. B. Bulloch.

NOTES ON

WEBBER, JANS, BOGARDUS, and ARNOLD FAMILIES

Note #1

"The writer does not now attempt to positively verify the age old tradition in the Webber family, regarding their descent from the Royalty of Holland, however records as found seem to substantiate, in a large degree, the tradition of this family and which tradition is somewhat as follows."

"William the Third of Holland, also known to history as William, Prince of Orange or William the Silent, was raised and educated in the Spanish court and he lived there for 27 years, where he was known as William the Third. He married the daughter of Lord Augustus of Saxony, Anna of Saxony. William the Silent is also traditionally credited with having two children by a Clandestine or secret marriage and whom he christened Webber, namely Sarah and Wolfert. Wolfert Webber married Catherine Jonas and they had 3 children: Wolfert, the second, born 1602, who married Arrentze Arrens in 1622; Martye, born 1603 married Tyman Jansen; and Anneke, who later became Anneke Jans Bogardus. Anneke, so tradition tells us, was born in 1605 in the King's mansion, surrounded by Royalty and she grew and was educated amid those surroundings. She became enamored of an agriculturist named Jan Roeloff Roeloffson, and in due time they were married and while Jan was well reputed in his home town of Masterland, he was not of Royalty and therefore this wedding displeased the Royal ancestor of Anneke, who upon making his will left her share in trust, to be administered to later generations, so tradition says, and it is said that this fortune has grown to a 100 or so millions.

Sarah Webber, born 1580 married Sybrant Bogardus and their grand-daughter Wyntie was the first wife of William Bogardus and the said William was the first son born of Anneke Webber Jansen Bogardus by her second husband, the Dominie Everardus Bogardus."

AMSTERDAM ESTATE Past and Present."

"ANNEKE JANS (Janse, contracted form of Jansen, the feminine of which was often used as 'Jans'.) There is a tradition extant that Annetje Jans and her sister were really grandchildren of William IX, Prince of Orange, but there seems to be no proof that they were other than respectable peasant people and was the daughter of one Tryntje (Catherine) Jonas, a respectable widow living near Rotterdam, who sought and obtained employment with the Dutch West India Company to come to America as a professional nurse and midwife. She came over in 1630, in the good ship ENDRADHT, accompanied by her daughter Marritje and her husband, a carpenter named Tymen. On the same ship came Annetje Jans and her husband Roelof Janssen and their three children, Sara, Katrina and Tytje. Roelof Janssen and his brood went up the Hudson to Fort Orange, where the young emigrant was under contract to act as "bouweester" or farm supt. for three years. In 1635, they moved to Manhattan, and Janssen at once set about building a house on the irregular tract of land that had been given to him, in all about 62 acres and but little of it cleared. Shortly, after the house was completed and some preparation made for his first planting, he died and Annetje was left alone with her five children. She did not remain a widow long, as in the spring of 1638, she was married to Dominie Everardus Bogardus whom the paternal West India Company had sent over to look after the spiritual needs of the little colony. Near him lived Nurse Tryntje Jonas, the first woman to practice the medical profession in New Amsterdam.

Dominie Bogardus, who had one of the best houses in the Colonies lived on Whitehall Street. He has been described as "large, graceful, sinewy and strong, with a fine, broad, open face, high cheek-bones, a dark piercing eye, and a mouth expressive of the very electricity of good humor, which was partly hidden by a beard cut in the peculiar fashion prescribed for ecclesiastics during the reign of Henry IV." The same writer has described Annetje at the time of her second marriage, as a "small, well formed woman with delicate features, transparent complexion, and bright, beautiful dark eyes. She had a well balanced mind, a sunny disposition and a kind heart." In June 1642 Sara Roelof married Dr. Hans Kierstede. Toward the end of this year, Dominie Bogardus was lost at sea. Again Annetje was left a widow, this time with four little sons, William, Cornelius, Jonas, and Pieter Bogardus, in addition to her elder family.

Fytje Jans had married Pieter Hartgers. (Children: Jannetje and Rachel Hartgers). Katrina Roelcfsen had married Johannes Van Brugh. Annetje Jans Bogardus died in 1663. Her sister, Marritje, was married 3 times, Tyman, Govert Lockerman, who came to America shortly after its first settlement; and Jacob Leisler.

Note #3

Anneke, soon after their arrival in this country (1630) adopted the usual Dutch custom as to his name, that is taking his first name "Jan" and affixing there to the Dutch derivative "sen" meaning son and taking his middle name for his first name, we therefore have Roeloff Jensen (the son of Roeloffson.)

Note #4

"As regards the tradition common among the descendants of Annetje and Roeloff Jans, that she had the right to claim descent from the uppermost family of Holland, namely, her grandfather being no less person than the founder of the Dutch Republic, William of Nassua, Prince of Orange, but Ruth Putman, in her pamphlet "Annetje Jans Farm" (Half Moon Series) Volume I, page 64, says, "A carefule search in Holland both in public archives and in those of the Nassua family has shown that this tradition is wholly without foundation. Annetje Jans came from a respectable family of village folks. Her mother being a professional nurse or midwife and she either came to America with Anneke or followed her shortly afterwards." Later the above statement was stated to be irrelavant and upon later examination of the genealogy of the Webber families shows that this particular Webber line IS descended from the Prince of Orange through the FATHER AND NOT THE MOTHER or in other words the descent of Anneke Jans Bogardus comes through her father and not her mother.

Note #5

"Bogardus, Dominie Everardus (born 1647) from Holland to New Amsterdam about 1680; First pastor of Dutch Reformed Church at New Amsterdam; married as her 2nd husband 1638, Anneke (Webber) Jans (born 1605) daughter of Wolfert Webber (1582) of Holland, said to have been the son of William IX, Prince of Orange, and later King of Holland."

"The Holland estate of Anneke Webber, said to be held in trust by her grandfather's will, because she displeased him by marrying a commoner, and not to be administered until the 7th generation, is now said to total more than $100,000,000.00. This estate, if there ever is such, never has been administered as far as any of the descendants of Anneke Webber Bogardus ever knew."

- from THE CHANCERY RECORDS "

"The independence of a maid of 17 of Royal birth, who disregarded the parental command to marry in the Royal circle and who married an honest and honorable youth, without pedigree, of her own choosing, laid the foundation in 1620 of a romance that has come down through the ages --- the romance of Anneke Webber: born in Holland and married the commoner Jan Roeloff Roeloffson in 1620."

- from DESCENDANTS HERALD.
Published at Indianapolis, In. 1925.

"ANNEKE JANS, widow of Roeloff Roeloffson and afterwards wife of Dominie Everardus Bogardus of New York, was a granddaughter of William, Prince of Orange, William the Silent."

- from "THE GESNER FAMILY." page 29.

"ROELOF ROELOFFSON, was sent by Patroon Rensselaer to Albany, New York, as Assistant Stewart, later was sent to New Amsterdam, where he was given a grant of land of 62 acres, by Gov. Wouter Van Twiller. He died soon after his arrival in New Amsterdam. In 1654, his widow obtained the patent for this land in her own name, from Gov. Stuyvesant. After the death of her second husband, she moved to the village of Beverwyck, near Albany where she died. On August 27, 1664, five of her heirs conveyed their claim to this land to Gov. Francis Lovelace, then Gov. of the Province of New York. The son, Cornelius, was said not to have signed this transfer and this land has been the source of some sort of litigation ever since. At the present day this land is owned principally by the Trinity Church Corp. and is one of the most valuable sections in the city of New York.

In 1697 Gov. Fletcher leased "the King's farm" to a corporation of the Trinity church for rent of 60 bu. of wheat for 7 years. In 1705 the Church was actually in possession of the land.

During the past 26 years that we have been in business more than 6000 individuals claiming to be members of the Bogardus, Drake, Jennings or Townley families have written us urging more hast in settling the claim."

- from "THE CHANCERY RECORD"
May 1924 P. 4.

Several chapters from "ANNEKE JANS BOGARDUS AND HER NEW AMSTERDAM ESTATE" - Wikoff, deals with the History of litigation, as to the title of the property of Trinity Church in New York. It is said that Col. Aaron Burr first discovered a defect in the title of Trinity Church. The descendants of Bogardus had reached nearly 10,000 in 1840.

Note #7

The will of Anneke Jans Bogardus dated January 29, 1663 is on file at Office of Secretary of State of New York. It is written in Dutch. An abstract from it:

"She left the heirs her farm, 2 houses, 80 acres at Hell's Gate, granted her in 1654; land near Beverwyck (Albany) and at Newton on Long Island. The last four Janse children "are to divide among themselves 1000 guilders (to be realized out of the proceeds of the farm on Manhattan.) She also gives her son Jans, who is yet unmarried, a bed and milch cow, and to Jonas and Pieter, a lot and house in Beverwyck, besides to to each a bed and milch cow each, as an equivalent to what her married children received. She gives her grandchildren ... a silver mug each. As to the rest of the property, the children and descendants are to share alike by representation."

Note #8

"The earlier Dutch ministers were (some of them) rough characters, Dominie Bogardus, in New Amsterdam, and Domine Schaets in Ft. Orange were most unclerical in demeanor, both in and out of the pulpit. Both were engaged in slander suits, the former as libeller and defender, both were abusive and personal in the pulpit, "dishonoring the church by passion". The former was alleged by his enemies to be frequently drunk. in church and abroad; and fearless of authority. He seized the pulpit as a convenient and prominent platform from which he could denounce his opposers. The Domine did not have everything his own way on Sundays, for the Director drowned his vociferations by ordering the beating of drums and firing of cannons outside the church during services."

- from "COLONIAL DAYS IN OLD NEW YORK"
Earle, P. 284.

Note #9

"Domine Everadus Bogardus was born in Holland; entered the University at Leyden in 1627, graduating there; came to New Amsterdam in 1633 as the 2nd Pastor of the (then) only church in New Amsterdam. Domine Bogardus was a man devoted to the cause of right and religion. He threatened to denounce Van Twuiller for his graft by exposing him from the pulpit, with the result that Van Twiller was dismissed and Keift was placed in charge. It was at the wedding of Sarah Bogardus that Gov. Keift took advantage of the drunkenness of the guests to get subscriptions for a new church. Each with a light head, subscribed away at a handsome rate, one competing with the other, and although some heartily repented it when their senses came back they were obliged to pay, nothing could avail against it. This new church was carried out in the Trinity Church of the present time. Bogardus became blind and was on a return voyage to Holland, on the same vessel with Gov. Keift, when the ship struck a rock in the British Channel and 81 persons including Bogardus and Keift were drowned in 1648. "

Note #10

Bogardus' widow sold the house in New Amsterdam and moved to Albany (Beverwyck). She was at the time, doubtless, a lady of very comfortable circumstances, for those times. Besides her farm and two houses she was the proprietor of many acres of land near the present village of Newton, on Long Island, and also at Hell's Gate, where she owned 80 acres granted her in 1654. She acquired also land at Beverwyck, and from the provisions of her will, we may conclude that she was very well to do in the world. She lived in Beverwyck, and died there in 1663, about 30 years after her arrival in the province. Her will was made at Beverwyck, as she lay, according to the words of her will, "on her bed in a state of sickness, but perfectly sensible and in full possession of her mental powers and capable to testate and recommending her Immortal Soul to God, her Creator and Redeemer, and consigning her body to Christian burial. " She was buried in the yard of the old Dutch church on Hudson Street in Albany.

Portrait of Anneke Jans -- description of an original oil painting, executed during her lifetime, now in possession of one of her descendants, front view, age 25, dress has sleeves gathered with puffs; large white ruffle for collar, a la-Queen Elizabeth, white cap covers most of her hair.

There is a large, beautiful wooden chest with iron hinges that Anneke Jans had. It has been passed thru the ages and now a Mrs. Laurie B. Post of New York has it. A picture of this chest is in THE CHANCERY RECORD of June 1924.

"We may easily picture The Domine and his family some fine Sunday A.M. coming out of his house in the Marchvelt, on Whitehall Street near Stone. Before the Domine and his wife Anneke Jans walks their pretty daughter Fytje, in her stripped petticoat and golden head plaque, then a ruddy miss of 16, holding by her hand her sturdy little brother, Cornelius, then 6 years of age, in his knee breeches and silver-buckled shoes; near them are Hans Keirstede, and his wife Sara, who is the daughter of Mrs. Bogardus by her first husband."

He married the daughter of the famous Anneke Jans, and in the centuries that have passed, the descendants have had more profit from the ointment than from real estate. The mother of Anneke Jans was a midwife. She was licensed to practice."

PHILIP ARNOLD, of Rockingham County, Va., is said to have been a descendant of the ancient Welsh line headed by Roger Arnold of Monmouthshire, whose wife was Joan Gamage, daughter of the Lord of Coytez, descendant of the Kings of England. The ancestry of Roger Arnold is traced from the ancient princes of Wales. We find no record of an emigrant to Virginia by the name of Philip Arnold. One Oliver Arnold, who was related to the New England branch, settled at Jamestown ante 1697 and may have been the progenitor, though it appears more likely that Philip was a direct descendant of William or Thomas Arnold, emigrants to New England ante 1640. Philip's wife, Anneke Jans Bogardus, being of the New York Colony indicates that perhaps Philip migrated southwards from New England, finally making his home in Virginia.

BENJAMIN ARNOLD (d. 1796), migrated south and settled on the Savannah River in the State of Georgia. After a short time he removed to Greenville County, S. C., where he made his home for the balance of his life and where his will was proved June 5, 1796.

HENDRICK ARNOLD (c.1760-1795), married about 1781 and made his home in Laurens County, S. C., where he was a planter and slaveholder. His will is recorded there, July 15, 1795, in which he named wife Ruth and son William to administer on his estate. His son, IRA ARNOLD was b. Dec. 25, 1791, probably the youngest of the four children named in Hendrick's will. Therefore, it will be noted that the children are not plotted on the chart in order of birth. Ira Arnold, like his father, was a planter and slaveholder. His plantation was situated just below Princeton on the old stage road. He married in 1813, Mary Saxon (infra), called "Polly."

CAPTAIN LEWIS SAXON, son of Charles Saxon and his wife, Mrs. Betty Washington Lewis; grandson of Robert Saxon (1), emigrant from Hampshire, Eng., and his wife, Judith Graves; was born Dec.

Col. Benjamin Arnold, Grandfather of Col. Robert Arnold of the Hampton Legion, came from Virginia when a small boy. The family located near old Lebanon church. His name appears on many of the old records in this part of the county as surveyor. He was also said to have been a genius as a workman in wood, iron and granite and was both a prominent and a useful man in his day. Page 27, of "GREENVILLE CENTURY BOOK " - Crittenden.

Benjamin Arnold, Sr. (son of Philip Arnold) and his wife Ann (Hendrick) Arnold emigrated from Virginia, first settling at Petersburg, said to be on the Savannah River. Later he moved to Greenville County, South Carolina, which part just been purchased from the Indians, and opened to white settlers. This was before the Revolutionary War. He lived and died on Horse Creek, at a place known as "Sallie Pinson (?) Farm." His will is recorded in Greenville, John McCory, Hewlett and Joseph

About the beginning of the Revolutionary War, Mrs. Temperance (Arnold) Hamilton, (a daughter of Benjamin Arnold, Sr.) went back to Virginia after her brother William's sons, presumable at his death. (So writes a Mr. W. D. Sullivan). She is described as being fearless and high spirited, making this journey alone, with the exception of a negro servant, She rode horseback and only at night, hiding during the day, so as to escape the Tory raiders. The sons were (one other had died) Anderson, and William Jr. She took them to the home of her brother Hendrick Arnold. The daughter Mary (Polly) being left in Virginia until after the war."

Note #20

While living in South Carolina Mary (Polly) Arnold married William Thomason. Her cousin, Alston, son of Benjamin Arnold, Jr., married Nancy Thomason. Another son, J. F. Thomason had married and he went to Georgia with Alston Arnold. There are several interesting stories told concerning the Arnold family and their doings. It is said that on the present boundry of Greenville and Laurens counties, from Tumbling Shoals to Princeton down the Augusta road to Brewerton, there is scarcely a house that was not originally occupied by some of the Arnolds.

NOTES ON THE THOMASON FAMILY

Note #1

William Thomason Sr. is the first of the names that we have record of. Mrs. William Dunklin Sullivan, of Tumbling Shoals, South Carolina, is my authority for the fact that William Thomason Sr. lived on the farm of Hewlett Sullivan, who was the grandfather of W. D. Sullivan, in Greenville County, Dunklin Township, South Carolina. Whether he owned a part of this farm, I do not know. He emigrated to Georgia about 1832, said to have come at the time with Alston Arnold, and court records show deeds of land to Alston Arnold in Campbell County in 1832. He spent the remainder of his life in that county and was buried in the yard of a house near Chapel Hill Church. His wife, the first wife of his son John Francis and a young son of John Francis are buried in this plot, which was still preserved in 1924.

William M. Thomason sold to Isaac Vestal of Campbell County lot #135 first district, 5th section of 202½ acres for $200.00. October 1, 1839

John Thomason is mentioned in the list of those who loaned money to the Government during the Revolution. Certificates #33400 - 57616.

Interesting Information

From Adjutant General's Office, War Department, Washington, D. C. The records of this Office show that one William Thomason served in the Revolutionary War, as a private in Capt. John Mark's Company, 14th Virginia Regiment. (Also designated as the 10th Virginia) and commanded by Col. Charles Lewis and Col. William Davies. He enlisted September 2nd 1777, for 3 years and his name appears last mentioned on the Muster Roll for November 1779, of date of December 9th 1779.

(This could have been our Wm. M. Thomason's father.)

William Thomason is mentioned in another record as being in 10th Virginia Regiment. - War Department Record #284.

William Thomason's name is given in list compiled by Marion Chapter of D. A. R., Bala, Pennsylvania in 1897.

William Thomason is given in Harvey's list of Revolutionary soldiers from Georgia, from Troupe County. Also in White's Historical Collection of Georgia.

- from TALLADEGA HOME. - Talladega, Alabama

"In the passing of George Milton Thomason on last Thursday March 19, Talladega lost one of her noblest citizens. Mr. Thomason was for many years a devoted teacher in the colored department of the Alabama Institute for Deaf and Blind, and it was the writer's privilege to learn to know him intimately. He was just a plain, pure-mined, unpretentions man.

To my way of thinking, George Thomason in his seventy-four years of living, made one of the outstanding successes of this community. Other men have made more money and have made a greater name for themselves in many ways, but no man within my knowledge has done better with the talents he had than did Mr. Thomason. Mr. Thomason was blind, but in spite of this affliction he managed to rear a family and to provide well for them. He was a faithful, devoted friend to his church and he could be counted on to do his part there. He was a man, who though he never made a large salary, knew how to husband his resources in such a way as to save part of his earnings. His children without exception are fine, well behaved good citizens. They are worthy representatives of such a father. George Thomason was a home-maker, a true father, a Christian and a fine citizen. His life should be an inspiration to every blind person in our state. Without complaining, he went about this daily work and through constant application he made a success.

But if his life should be an inspiration to the blind, how much more should it inspire the rest of us who have all of our faculties. Scores of men with all of their faculties have lived alongside Mr. Thomason, but because their aim was low, they missed the target. Surely, if a man afflicted with blindness, without any special gifts, can live so successful a life, those of us who are blessed with all our senses should feel ashamed to do less.

Finally, the life of George Milton Thomason is a symbol of the American way of life and of the opportunities to be found here. The lessons to be drawn from such a life are many and wholesome. These lessons teach us not only to appreciate our country and our opportunities more, but they give new hope and courage to everyone who really desires to make a success of life.

MILTON ROGERS THOMASON - In the widely-known firm of building and contracting, bearing his name, M. R. Thomason has been a co-partner with his brother, John F. Thomason, for a period that soon will round out two decades of active operation in Alabama and Georgia, and adjacent states. He is a native of Talladega, born August 3, 1902, son of George M. Thomason and Lucy (Rogers) Thomason, the father coming originally from Rome, Georgia, the mother being born in Prattville, Alabama.

It is worthy of note that the father was associated with the Alabama State school system for forty-two years, and that the son of this record has been active in his line of business almost from the time he began making his own livelihood. M. R. Thomason learned several phases of contracting as a young man, working for contraction firms. In 1928, he started a small business in electrical contracting in Birmingham. In 1932, he removed to Montgomery and inaugurated a business in contracting of the heavy types and speedily made a reputation in this field. At times M. R. Thomason and Company have employed as many as a thousand employees, and only the restrictions of World War II prevented an even greater expansion of their enterprise. The firm operates in Southern States and has completed such outstanding construction projects as the Calloway Field, at La Grange, Georgia; similar works at Aiken and Barnwell, South Carolina, and a number of other works in this same class in Alabama and Mississippi. At the same time the company has constructed many miles of highways and streets, having done a great deal of reclamation work and being one of the leading concerns of its kind in the South.

M. R. Thomason is one of those progressive citizens who renders important service to his community, both as industrialist and co-operative leader in local affairs. He is an active member of the Alabama Road Builders Association, having served as their vice-president and president, and for many years on the Board of Directors. (At present, he is the treasurer.) He is a member of the executive board of the Tukabatchee Area Council of Boy Scouts, and takes great interest in scout work. He is active in the Montgomery Kiwanis Club, on board of directors - 1948.

He figures prominently in the Chamber of Commerce of Montgomery and likewise the Chamber of Commerce of Alabama. He belongs to the Beauvoir Country Club. (Serving three years as its president), and worships in the First Methodist Church, serving on its board of stewarts. He is a liberal in the support of religious and charitable activities.

In 1925, M. R. Thomason married Aimee Roberts, a native of Alabama and they are the parents of three children: Mildred, Philip and Alan Thomason. Mildred was a 1948 graduate of Hollins College, Hollins, Virginia.

At the second session of the Legislature of Alabama Territory Autauga was created by an act approved November 21, 1818. Prattville, a village was started in 1839 by Daniel Pratt. Population in 1880 was 977 people.

Note #2

Most of the earlier dates of births, marriages, and deaths, were copied from the old Rogers Family Bible, belonging to Bray W. Rogers. "THE HOLY BIBLE, containing the Old and New Testaments, together with THE APOCRYPHA" - printed in 1829, now in the possession of Mrs. Sara Rogers Christopher. In this Bible, Rogers was spelled Rodgers. In many other places, especially the Autauga County Courthouse records, the spelling was the two ways. Some of the later dates were from a Bible belonging to Nettie Morse (Rogers) Thomason, some from tombstones and various other places, and some from the various families direct.

AMELIA, May 17 - Somtimes a man has to grope through shadows to find his calling.

Young David Philip Rogers worked three years for a sash and blind manufacturer before he decided his job was to let in the light rather than keep it out.

That was in 1884 in Prattville, Alabama, near where he was born, and he was 24. He started to college and a year later began preaching. Although officially he "retired" 12 years ago, he has kept on ever since.

The "Circuit-riding" minister announced to his congregation here one Sunday morning in September 1937, that he planned to retire October 1, his twenty-fifth anniversary as pastor of the Amelia group of Presbyterian churches. When the service was over, a friend of another denomination offered to build a house and rent it to him and Mrs. Rogers if they would remain here. Today, young people of various faiths thoughtout this area still come to that attractive white frame house to get married. Many of them heard a little sermon from him in school every week for years, and thus their feet seem naturally to point to his door when they get the "notion."

The Rev. Mr. Rogers still carries on as Amelia's school chaplain, a post he assumed in 1913 in addition to his regular work as minister for nine churches. The routine, he admits, is a bit less severe than the one he kept in the heyday of his 64-year career, which took him to churches in Alabama, Western Virginia and West Virginia before he settled here. "I lived out of my saddle pockets 10 nights a month in those days."

He began carrying the gospel on horseback as a sophomore at Oxford College in Alabama. A church 8 miles from the school was without a minister, and a faculty advistor persuaded him to conduct a monthly service there. It was then he first learned to "suffer" for his faith. The church paid a liveryman to keep a horse in town for the young student to ride to the service. That was Mr. Rogers' compensation for the job. "I was sore for two or three days after every trip," he confided. He continued the mission until his graduation three years later.

He entered Union Theological Seminary, then at Hampton-Sidney College, in 1888, and left in 1890 to marry a girl in Alabama and preach there for two years. Returning in 1892, he obtained his BD the following year.

His first call after that took him to Plum Branch, 4 miles south of Concord in the Roanoke Presbytery, where by horseback or horse and buggy he served a group of 4 churches until 1904. "I wore out a buggy every 2 years, and the horse had to be shod once a month," he said.

Then from 1904 to 1907 it was preaching in railroad camps, school houses, logging camps, and mining communities as well as churches in the area around Princeton, West Virginia. Each week end as the rotating schedule pointed to a different community for Sunday services, he climbed into the saddle on the Friday or Saturday beforehand, rode into that section and visited its families. One Sunday he walked 11 miles through a snowstorm and preached to a congregation of three men. Another winter day took him to a church where all the windows had been blown out by the blasting done to clear a new road near by. It was 10 degrees below zero but there were 35 or 40 people there. I told them to go home to keep from freezing but they said they had come to hear the gospel, and wanted to hear it. So I told them to stand up and move around if they needed to keep warm. The men stood but the women kept their seats until the service was over.

In 1907, he returned to Virginia to take charge of a group of churches around Bedford Springs. The first Mrs. Rogers had died more than 10 years before, leaving him two young sons. It was there that he and the present Mrs. Rogers, originally Miss Lillian Harvey, of Campbell County, were married. "There were two things I said I'd never do," she recalled here. "I said I'd never marry a minister, because I couldn't keep buckle and tongue together, and I'd never marry a man with children. And I did both." To-day her husband's steady companion, she devotes a good bit of her time to reading to him. And she sees considerably more of him, she says, smilingly, than she did a few years back.

When they moved here in 1912, Mr. Rogers' ministerial territory included the Powhatan "group" and the Amelia "Group".

With two and sometimes three services a Sunday, he covered them by his old reliable transportation means entirely until 1916, when he acquired a car. "At first I used the car in Summer and the horse or horse and buggy in Winter. Those roads were so bad I carried a 50-ft. rope and two fall blocks in the car to use when it got mired, and an ox to cut a road around the road if I couldn't clear the mud holes. I wore out five cars in the work here." Shortly a student was assigned to the Powhatan group, but Mr. Rogers remained responsible for it until 1922.

"No.", he said, "I never thought a great deal about going to the city, although our churches have sent a lot of people there. The country churches are "feeders" for the cities now."

"Our congregation here, for instance, had about 348 members when I started, and the total is probably about the same to-day, although we've received well over 500 in the meantime. The young people either go to work in the city, or marry and move there. But in the country a preacher feels he is somebody. I love people, and I love to be loved by them, and I've had a good life in what I think is the highest calling a man can have in this world."

Preacher Active At 89

By STUART X. STEPHENSON
Of The Advertiser Staff

AUTAUGAVILLE — His only college was "the seminary of hard knocks," but the Rev. Claude Hudson Rogers has preached 53 years and "they have been calling me for 15 years after my retirement."

A few days from the frisky age of 90, Preacher Rogers has a schedule jam full of dates and special meetings throughout the Presbytery of his area.

This area includes the parishes all the way from Pine Flat to Little Sandy Ridge—and beyond.

In this sunset of life, Preacher Rogers was basking with gusto the other day at his modest home here in Autaugaville. Asked why he continued to roam the circuit, the happy-natured self-taught minister replied with an infectious smile: "I just don't have any better sense."

STILL THERE is a reason, and he had to admit it is his love for people, and "I'm paying them back for being so good to me when I got started back in 1903." Then he recalled how the folks started to run down chickens everytime they saw the preacher coming.

Rev. Mr. Rogers said the folks may have opposed my entry into the ministry, but "the Good Lord called me," and he added with another howl: "Now

I don't care what the folks call me as long as they call me for dinner."

On the serious side, Preacher Rogers said he knows the age in which we are now living is different, "but in the swiftness of life I cannot note the spiritual improvement necessary to help us weather the storms."

OVER ORGANIZATION of the churches drew criticism from the octogenarian who expressed a firm feeling that some real, old-fashioned religion is what the nation needs.

His lengthy preaching career was started at the Evergreen Church near Verbena and he was the pastor of this rural parish for 13 years. Then to Pine Flat (between Deatsville and Verbena) and to many others until his retirement by the General Assembly in 1946.

"But I've preached right on, conducted Sunday School classes and preached sermons in Autauga, Elmore, Montgomery, Lowndes, Macon and other places," he said. His schedule called for his participation in the 129th anniversary of the Little Sandy Ridge Presbyterian Church this week.

PARSON ROGERS has preached more than 700 funerals and "taken in" more than 2,000 communicants in his various parishes during his dedicated and colorful career in the ministry. Among his unusual assignments is a Sunday school teaching class in the Methodist Church.

In 1922 he cranked up an old T-model to make the long runs from Pine Flat to Independence, and for a long time he travelled by train to Sprague Junction, spent the night, preached in Sandy Ridge or some nearby church and returned by train to his native heath on Monday.

One of a family of nine brothers and sisters, Claude Hudson, like his brother, David Philip, turned to the ministry. The other two brothers made contracting their profession.

THERE ARE TOO many things for Claude Hudson Rogers to remember along the long trail, but he recalls how he replied to the officers when he was asked at the regular meeting of the Presbytery if he thought he was ready to tackle the examination for ordination.

"I just told them I wouldn't be here if I was not ready," and added: "I started out to use notes, but this was no more satisfactory than trying to write out a sermon. I just preached right straight from what was in my heart and folks are still asking me to do just that."

Rev. Mr. Rogers doesn't want any monuments, "but I hope what memory there is will be in the hearts of folks for what I told them in language we all understood."

MRS. ROGERS is the former Miss Fannie Northington of Prattville. Three girls and a son were born to this union and Rev. Mr. Rogers had two children by his first wife.

"Yes sir, I stole a watermelon as a boy. It was a little old thing, and I was good at fighting forest fires and helping to clear some of our red, clay land where I was born in 1872 a boy five miles north of Prattville.

Rev. Mr. Rogers seems happy about it all.

He has a tremendous faith, a devilish smile and a great desire to preach right up until the last hour of his life.

"Man is not going to fool around on the moon and accomplish too much for his fellow-man in outer space," he replied to a query about the future of the spaceship.

Rev. Mr. Rogers admits there are some great and powerful minds that have made possible the stab into space, but his conclusion is that "these talents are being sadly misdirected."

Note #2

"The Winstons of Virginia are said to be descended from the ancient and honorable family of the same name in England. "

"THE WINSTONS were very old family in Yorkshire England. They are of Saxon descent. The head of the family lived at Winston Ond Ha. A younger son of the house, ISAAC, was born about 1620 and is called in the traditions of the famiky ISAAC OF YORK. In 1650, from political reasons or religious reasons or both, Isaac of York removed to Essex County and there lived and died among his relations who in a former generation had preceded him. To him (i.e Isaac Winston) about the year 1652 was born a son called Isaac. He was not his first born and is known by the name of ISAAC OF ESSEX. When he attained his majority, he left his parents and sought his fortune in Wales. He there brought up a large family. His three oldest sons were called, ISAAC, WILLIAM and JAMES. About 1702, they sought their fortunes in America, Hanover County, Virginia. The three brothers were commonly called in Virginia, within the memory of old men, WELCH IKE, WELCH BILLY AND WELCH JIMMY. They were dignified men, imposing in their personal appearance and though very peaceable in their demeanor; yet like all Welch (their mother was a Welch woman), were irascible and quick to resent an insult. They were brave and very strong - well educated men and brought money with them. Welch Isaac married Miss Mary

Dabney. Of Welch William, I know but little. He was a very shy man and stayed at home. Welch Jimmy married BARBARA OVERTON. '

The slaves and legancies I give unto my said wife Mary and to her heirs forever." The will was dated February 6, 1760.

"John Geddes, having a wife and one daughter married to Bobby, by whom she had two daughters, the plaintiff, her eldest, and Elizabeth --- etc...."

"This case seems to show that John Geddes, a rich merchant, died about 1718 and his widow married John Syme, and she died in 1727, then Syme married (another) Sarah Winston, daughter of Isaac Winston. After Syme's death (in 1731) his widow, Sarah, married Col. John Henry and was the mother of Patrick Henry. Rebecca Winston (wife of William Winston), the plaintiff in the suit, was a daughter of Thomas and Mary Bobby, daughter of John Geddes."

Note #9

There are three notable accounts of the WINSTON FAMILY in existence: (1) GENEALOGY OF ISAAC WINSTON AND DESCENDANTS by Eliz. W. C. Hendrick (1899), (2) a Manuscript genealogy of the Winston Family prepared by Isaac Winston, Esq. of Washington, D.C. and given by him to the Virginia Historical Society (a copy of which is in THE CABELLS AND THEIR KIN. Brown: and (3) a collection of abstracts from the general and local records in Virginia made by the late Edward Pleasant Valentine and published in THE EDWARD PLEASANT VALENTINE PAPERS, in four volumes.

From reading much from all three of these accounts, I believe there is a slight error in Chart I, of Mrs. Hendrick. I have, therefore, typed in the changes, as I see them, thus:

The outer part of the lower left branch, should go on Tree 2 (see Notes 5 and 6 for proof).

James Winston and Barbara Overton had two sons (from her will dated October 6, 1784), John, who married Alice Bickerton (Note #12); and James, who had several children (WINSTONS OF VIRGINIA pp 34). Sarah Winston, who married John Geddes (Note #8) was one of them.

Another proof from THE ABREDED COMPENDIUM OF AMERICAN GENEALOGY - page 486, Volume VI. :

ANTHONY WINSTON - "Captain Anthony Winston of Hanover County Virginia, a member of the Virginia Convention of 1775 and a gallant captain in the Revolutionary Army lies buried in the old Winston family burying ground just out of Sheffied, Alabama. Volume 13, of D.A.R. Lineage Book, states that Anthony Winston was born in Hanover County Virginia in 1750, married Keziah Jones and died in Alabama in 1832. They had seven sons and two daughters. Capt. Winston removed first to Tennessee and then to Madison County, Alabama about 1810. Capt. Winston was nearly related to Patrick Henry (just a first cousin) and distinction is hereditary in the Winston family. He had many honored descendants; one of his grandsons was Gov. John Anthony Winston of Sumpter County, the first native born governor of Alabama; another grandson was Gen. Edmund Winston Pettus, Senator in the U.S. Congress; another grandson was the brother of Gen. Pettus, Gov. John J. Pettus, who was the Governor of Mississippi.

WINSTON. The story runs that there was a colonial beauty and bell of old Maryland that had numerous lovers, that it was hard to decide between them. At last - her choice lay between two friends, Dalam and Winston. Dallam won her heart, and after several years of happy married life he died, after which Winston gained his heart's desire by marrying the widow. The daughter of Winston was the mother of WILLIAM PACA, who was Governor of Maryland, and a member of Continental Congress and a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

In the Montgomery Advertiser of May 7th 1961, was the following:

GREENSBORO, N.C. - Mrs. Robert Alonzo Winston, of Greensboro, North Carolina announces the engagement of her daughter Shirley Rabb to Patrick Henry Winston III, of Greensboro, son of Mrs. Patrick Henry Winston II, and the late Mr. Winston of Chapel Hill, South Carolina.

Note #19

Excerpts from a letter received from the Court House at Rogersville, Tennessee, County-seat of Hawkins County.

"John Geddes Winston Sr. did not marry Judith Kenner. He married Lucy Beverly Kenner, daughter of Rev. Rodham and Judith (Kenner) Kenner.

Judith Kenner made a will 16 November 1819 and another will 13 February 1829, and by error both of them are recorded in Hawkins County, Will Book 1, page 279 and 282, although legally only the later will should have been. Judith mentions her daughter Lucy Beverly Winston, wife of John G. Winston, and her grandchildren William Winston; Margaret Winston (called Margaret Findley in the 2nd will); and John G. Winston. Judith died 3 March 1833 in Hawkins County. The Winstons were in Hawkins County in 1834, but seems to have moved to DeKalb County, Alabama soon after that date.

The marriage is of record in Caroline County, Virginia "13 March 1804: John G. Winston to Lucy Beverly Kenner: Rodham Kenner, Surety; married 15 March by the Rev. Abner Waugh."

Mrs. Judith Kenner was left a widow in 1793. She lived in Caroline County until 1809, as shown by Tax Lists, then moved to Botetourt County, Virginia, where her son Lawrence Sterne Kenner was married October 1810 to Lucy Ann Winston, sister to John G. Winston (*).

On 26 April 1834, at the house of John G. Winston in Hawkins County Lucy B. Winston, aged 54, made deposition in a lawsuit and mentions her late mother Judith Kenner. John G. Winston, aged 56, made a similar deposition the same day.

Although these John G. Winston were called "Gad", Geddes is the correct spelling.

The Rev. Rodham Kenner was a member of the fifth generation and his wife, Judith Kenner, of the sixth generation from the first Richard Kenner."

"In some way the "E" was changed to an "A" in Geddes, when it got to our grandfather Winston that married Lucinda Wilson." - Mrs. Cora Gilbreath.- But in the VESTRY BOOK of St. Paul's Parish, - Page 671, we found: Winston, Geddes (Gaddes, Geddis).

JOHN GADDES WINSTON (1814-1896), son of John Gaddes and Lucy B. Kenner Winston, was born in Hawkins County, Tennessee on July 31, 1814. He was married to Lucinda Wilson in Hawkins County September 5, 1835 by Thomas Gillinwaters, Esq. He moved from Tennessee down the Tennessee River in a flat boat with his wife and two children, getting to Wills Valley near Lebanon, in DeKalb County, Alabama on the 5th April 1838, about the time the Indians were being moved from Alabama and Georgia to their territory in the West. He commenced, poor, had no property, was a farmer, carpenter, trader, merchant and by honesty and sobriety, frugality and hard work had accumulated some property, owned several hundred acres of land and 18 negroes when the War Rebellion (Civil War) came in 1861 and it virtually broke him up. He took an active interest in politics, was a Democrat. In August 1844 was elected to the Legislature from DeKalb County, resigned in 1845, having been appointed by President James K. Polk to the office of Receiver of Public Money of the Land Office in Lebanon, Alabama, which office he held for 4 years. In August 1863, he bought a farm in Marshall County from Edward Robbins, for $11,000.00. He paid part in negroes, part in Confederate money and part in gold and silver. He was opposed to Secession, but went with the South, but was not in the War. He built a mill on a small creek running through his farm and another mill on Town Creek. He sold his farm to Willis Staton and moved to Sand Mountain in 1884. He was a very active, industrious man all of his life. ... He was a Master Mason. After the death of his wife, Lucinda, he married a widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Burt in 1881. They lived at Jink Post Office on Sand Mountain. He left home January 3, 1896 and went to his son (John Gaddes Winston III) in Guntersville to be near a doctor. He died at 9:40 A.M. March 19th 1896, of dropsy brought on by a fall he had about a year before. He was buried beside his wife Lucinda, at a graveyard near Robbins Springs, near Meltonville, Marshall County, Alabama. He left surviving him 3 children, Edward, Lucy Ellen Roberts and John Gaddes Winston. He and Lucinda had 12 children. His age was 81 years, 7 months and 18 days. He was Postmaster at Jink at the time of his death. He was known as "Pappy Winston".

- Written by John Gaddes Winston III
- for Cora W. G. in 1896.

SOME MODERN HISTORY. "As you know from reading the above history that our Great-grandfather came to Marshall County in 1864 and bought Robbins Springs farmland and built two mills. In the course of later sales of the place, Carey Elder acquired the brass bucket that was used in the mill on Town Creek. Gov. Jim Folsom used this bucket as his famous "Suds Bucket" during his first Campaign for Governor of Alabama and now wants to put the "bucket" in the Archives of History."

"LUCY ELLEN WINSTON BURNS ROBERTS, was born in Hawkins County Tennessee on June 1, 1837, removed with her parents to Wills Valley, Alabama. She was married to Dr. John Burns in 1854. He died on the 17th September 1854. (This short marriage was one of the sweetest romances in this era, so I am told.) She married William Jehu Roberts March 1856. Children were: Mary Ellen; Ruben Edward; Fannie Maria; Corrinna Jane; George W.; William Richard; Lucinda Rebecca; Charley; Ross Hanley; and Maud. She was member of the Methodist Church. - written about 1895.

ROBERTS - Sister Lucy Roberts, the deceased was the daughter of John G. and Lucinda Winston. She was born June 1, 1837. In March 1856, she was married to Mr. W. J. Roberts, with whom she lived in happy accord until her death, which sad event took place at the family residence in Collinsville, Alabama April 10, 1900. Sister Roberts was converted to God in the summer of 1870, and joined the Methodist Church the same day. During the remainder of her life she was a consistent Christian woman, shedding forth the light of a Godly life in her home and exalting and hallowing the sacred relations of wife and mother. She was the controlling religious factor in that household. After her, and largely through her influence, there came into the church her husband, five sons, and three daughters. "Her children rise up and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praised her." - Proverbs 31:28. But she is gone. Aunt Lucy is no more. God has called her to her reward. Another voice is heard no more on earth; another shouts the praise of God in heaven. We sit in tears and mourn for her departure, she rejoices with the angels in glory supernal. Let us meet her in those mansions above.

UNCLE JAY ROBERTS dead - (Everyone in Collinsville called him Uncle). We are sorry to record the death of Uncle Jay Roberts, at his home here last Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Uncle Jay was born November 29, 1827, being over 84 years of age at his death. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity over 57 years. We can hardly realize to what an age Uncle Jay had lived; twenty of his ancestors of his age would almost reach back to the time of Christ. He was loved, respected and honored by all. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Terry, from the M. E. Church South of which he was a member. The Masonic Services were conducted by Judge W. W. Haralson. Interment at the New Cemetery Sunday at 10 A.M. He leaves a host of grandchildren and great-grandchildren, five sons and two daughters. Ruben, William, Charles and Mrs. Fannie Browne of this city; Ross and Mrs. C. R. Clayton of Birmingham, Alabama; and George W. of Montgomery. "

- from "COLLINSVILLE CLIPPER."

The following was found among the effects of Uncle Jay

Roberts, after his death last week: "To my dear children and friends, when I am gone to my Eternal Home. Would to God, I could stretch forth my arms, and draw you all to my bosom, that you could feel the pulsation of a heart, that loves you all. You have spoken to me from your heart, and God knows, I had rather hear a word spoken from the heart, than one thousand spoken from the tongue. "

(signed) WILLIAM J. ROBERTS.

Mrs. Ruby Clayton Tyler, (a granddaughter of W. J. Roberts) said that he told her father that he had read the Bible through 3 times while kneeling in prayer. This statement is also written in a Bible belonging to Ross E. Roberts.

Note #4

COLLINSVILLE, ALABAMA. In 1880, H. P. McWhorter, a young doctor from Gaylesville, moved to Collinsville to practice medicine. With him came his sister Miss Della McWhorter (Later Mrs. Joseph Roberts) to teach piano. She secured room and board with "Aunt Sally" Roberts who lived at the old Alfred Collins home-place (built in 1842) (It is now the site of the First Baptist Church, which was built in 1928.) Among the doctors coming to Collinsville in the early 80's, 90's, and 1900 was Dr. Taylor Miller (father of Mrs. W. C. Farrell of Birmingham, and sister to Mrs. Mary Mosteller, mother of Mrs. Della Mosteller Roberts.) William J. Roberts was appointed postmaster on August 8, 1893; Robert M. Crump, March 13, 1915, and Clifford Crump, his son, is now the Postmaster (1951). Collinsville was incorporated in 1894. The first day of February 1900, was the day the town burned up... in the path of the flames not one building was saved.

Excerpts from "ANNUAL CATALOGUE OF COLLINSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL", Session 1886-7 lists Della Mosteller as being in high school. There were 46 pupils.

In 1842, when Tennessee born Alfred Collins came this was forest primeval. He built his home in 1842 here in Little Wills Valley (Named for Big Chief Will of the Cherokee tribe) on a beautiful mound overlooking Little Wills Creek "...Children grew up. Sally Collins married George Roberts, (Uncle to George W. Roberts). Julia Collins married Doc Kirby...etc."

RECORDER HARRIS POPULAR CHOICE

Has lived in Ensley over Nine Years.

"Florence Ollin Harris, the new recorder of the Ensley-Pratt police court, is one of the best-known men in this vicinity. He came to Birmingham from Atlanta, Georgia nearly 25 years ago and entered the service of the Stowers Furniture company, staying in their employ nearly 12 years. He was the manager and co-owner of the Harris-Loveday Furniture Company until his election to the bench several days ago.

Judge Harris bears a splendid reputation as a citizen and a business man. He has been highly successful in all his ventures, and represents the type of a conservative and patriotic citizen.

His election to the office of recorder gives general satisfaction, for Judge Harris has the respect and confidence not only of his friends but of those who opposed him politically... "

He was a physician and practiced medicine in Collinsville, Alabama. After Taylor Mosteller died in Arkansas, Dr. Taylor sent for his sister Mary Lucinda and her four small children. They lived there in Collinsville and he was one of the most devoted brothers and really "took care of and looked after" them. My mother was so devoted to Aunt Nannie (Young) and so it is from her that I have the "Young" in my name. Aunt Nannie gave my mother a beautiful wedding supper, which was the "talk of the town" for many years.

HISTORY OF THE MILLER FAMILY

Robert Miller, an adventurous Irishman, came to South Carolina in the early part of the eighteenth century. He married there and was the father of twin boys, Thomas and George. These boys were born December 14, 1773.

Very little is known of their early life. After their boyhood days George was never heard of again. Thomas was married to Margaret Brown in the year 1800. To this union there was born five daughters and four sons. The children were, Lucinda, Mahulda, Nancy, Betty Ann, Mahala, John Y., William, Wesley and Jessie Miller. All of thses children were born in South Carolina.

In 1835, they moved to Cherokee County, Alabama. There Margaret Miller died. Thomas Miller went back to South Carolina and later married a Mrs. Conner. Sometimes after the death of their mother, the children by his first wife moved to Floyd County, Georgia, near Rome - Plainsville, Georgia.

In 1856, Wesley Miller and his brother John Y. (the Methodist Minister) went to bring their father and brother Jessie Miller's family to Georgia. Four years later several members of the family decided to come to Alabama. In 1860 these families came in covered wagons to Crumley's Chapel. They were ten days on the road. In this covered wagon caravan were 12 adults and 30 children.

In 1869, of the nine children of Thomas and Margaret (Brown) Miller, two sons and two daughters with their families were in Jefferson County, Alabama. These were Lucinda Miller (Mrs. Anthony Whitfield), Mahaulda Miller (Mrs. Jonas Wheeler), Jessie Miller and John Y. Miller.

The three daughters who married in Cherokee County, Alabama had gone back to Floyd County, Georgia and remained there. They were Mahala Miller (Mrs. James Cannon); Betsy Ann Miller (Mrs. John B. Lewis) and Nancy Miller (Mrs. Ralph Littlejohn).

Two sons, Wesley and William Miller remained in Floyd County and there reared their families.

Thomas Miller died May 20, 1865 at the age 92. On his tombstone in Crumbly Chapel cemetery is the following inscription:

"For 70 years a member of the Methodist Church. "

- from "HISTORY OF MILLER FAMILY "
by Mrs. W. C. Farrell (Grace Miller).

NOTE: Mrs. Farrell has gone extensively into all of the second generation. She has a copy now and so do I, and will be glad to let anyone use it.
